She presented the Board with a budget of $750. for the Harvard Community Assistance Program study which will be done by Miss Nagazina in 7 visits to Mattapoisett. The Selectmen told her that they would like to keep the area as natural as possible. They explained that the shellfishing there is the best in town; clam, quahog and scallop beds are to be preserved just as at present. The Selectmen do not want dune buggies on the beach. They would like to see the study as a plan for the future that could be done in stages as the need for more recreational beach area arises.

Miss Nagazina said that her initial observation is that the beach is beautiful with shallow water near the shore making it ideal for small children. She said that access along Reservation Road is in conflict with the golf course since part of the course crosses the road and asked Selectmen if the access should be from Depot Street. They replied that, for the present, parking could be in the Depot Street lot and people could walk along the right-of-way to the beach. Miss Nagazina said that she would like to incorporate the use of adjacent areas in the salt marsh, eel pond, Goodspeed

The Selectmen emphasized that at present they would like to maintain the beach in a natural state with a minimum of structural improvements. To All Taxpayers of the Town of Rochester

The Board of Assessors has completed a general revaluation of all real estate in the Town as of January 1, 1982.

The valuation changes reflect the increased market values within the community over the last two years. The average increase of approximately 8% will raise the total assessed value of the Town, resulting in a lower (dollar per thousand) tax rate.

Fair Noel

St. Gabriel's Episcopal Church in Marion will hold its annual "Fair Noel" on Saturday, December 4th, from 11:00 to 2:00.

Workshops have been underway since September to prepare the items which will fill many tables in several rooms of the parish hall. Homemade candy, jams, jellies, candles and Christmas wreaths will share space with hand-crafted and hand-sewn gift items. Other tables will include "Trinkets & Treasures" and the ever popular "Aunt Sarah's" where only children under 12 are allowed to enter.

A luncheon offered by the men of the parish which will, as in past years, feature foods to satisfy any taste, and a raffle with a list of prizes which includes a fantastic hand-crafted dollhouse, will round out the day.

St. Gabriel's annual "Fair Noel" is held in the parish hall on the corner of Front and South Streets and is always an enjoyable time. See you at the fair!

O.R.R. PARENTS GROUP PLANS PROGRAM FOR 1982-83 - A PLEA FOR HELP

On Wednesday, December 1, the ORR Parents' Group will sponsor the first of four Career Awareness Days at Old Rochester Regional High School in Mattapoisett. Men and women from the community, representing some twenty different career spheres, will be on hand to speak with students about their own work and about their perspective on the world of work. A number of them have agreed to accept a student "shadow" who will follow them through a typical work day. The other Career Awareness Days are scheduled for February, March, and May. Says program coordinator Ann H. Fournier, "We need a pool of speakers and people who will help organize the Career Days. In fact, I don't know why parents who are thinking of changing careers couldn't attend Career Days themselves." Ed Jawor, Vice Principal of ORR, commented, "With the help of the parents in the community, this could be a model program."

On Thursday evening, December 2, the ORR Parents' Group will sponsor a 7:30 meeting in the Junior High cafetorium which is being called "Talking with Our Teenagers about Sex". The purpose of the meeting is to discuss effective ways of talking with older children about their feelings and their family's values with regard to sexual behavior. Since the Health Curriculum at the Junior and Senior High Schools includes a component on human sexuality, textbooks will be available both for the sake of information and for stimulating discussion. The Parents' Group hopes that this will be the first of many meetings and discussions on this very important subject. Parents of younger children are also invited to attend.

A program on parent-teenager communication has been tentatively scheduled for the t[redacted]eek in March, and another on drug a[redacted]ohol abuse is being planned for e[redacted]ay.

[redacted]f these "programs" has grown, as h[redacted] Parents' Group itself, out of the needs of teen-aged children and the concern of their parents in the ORR community. Since 1978, when parent Joan Braden first drew the Parents' Group together, a number of important problems have been addressed. Early programs had to do with peer pressure, career planning, and parent-child communi-

Late in 1980, the Group sponsored a program called "Families--Caring and Coping", featuring psychologist Dr. Robert Crook and panel discussion. In the Spring of 1981, prominent lecturer on drug and alcohol abuse David Toma was brought to the ORR community by the Parents' Group. His program was followed by a "Communication Party" in which both parents and their teenagers participated.

The ORR Parents' Group has no officers, no organizational structure of its own, and no administrative staff. It supports the educational program and processes at the junior and senior high schools, while seeking to improve communication between parents and the school and between parents and their children. The key to its success is communication among parents, and participation by parents in developing needed programs.

"One of the really important things about the group," says Ann Fournier, "is that a person who wants to make something happen can do it...."

Plan to meet with the Parents' Group to help develop the programs that are in the planning stage; plan to bring your own ideas and concerns about future programs. Without the ideas and participation of concerned parents, the ORR Parents' Group has no influence, and no future.

[redacted] to Press, under the [redacted] meeting minutes, it was noted that Priscilla Hathaway of Aucoot Road requested that hunting be banned in the Town of Mattapoisett because she heard shots "very close to a spot where children wait for the school bus". The article didn't mention exactly where the bus stop is. If the stop is within 500 feet of a dwelling, she should have called the Police Department to investigate. The hunter may have been 500 feet from a dwelling but only 200 feet from the bus stop, in which case he is perfectly within the law and Ms. Hathaway should then have contacted the School Department to have the bus stop moved closer to her home.

The National Rifle Association membership is climbing higher and higher each year. Hunters are tired of reading articles about

PROGRESS ON AGREEMENT BETWEEN SCHOOL COMMITTEE AND TEACHERS

The School Committee and the Educators' Association have made substantial progress towards an agreement. The representatives for the two sides are working out the final details. No announcement on the substance of the agreement will be made until both sides have ratified it.

George S. White, Chairman
Old Rochester Regional District
School Committee

TO THE EDITOR

Quotes from "My Description of an American" amused me and seemed to give subtle food for thought for [redacted] They come from [redacted] 1982.

"An American fights [redacted] then gives them the shirt off his back. An American yells for speed laws and then won't buy a car if it won't travel 100 miles per hour. An American moans about high prices of groceries to feed his family - and then spends his hard-earned money for liquor and cigarettes.

"An American will spend half a day looking for vitamin pills to make him live long-people like Ms. Hathaway and gladly pay their N.R.A. dues to protect their right to bear arms against people like her.

There undoubtedly are many vehicles being driven faster than the speed limit on Aucoot Road near the children's bus stop, so why doesn't she request that all cars be banned in Mattapoisett? It makes just as much sense as her request to ban hunting.

PSAT SCORES AND THEIR MEANING

The PSAT was administered to Old Rochester Regional High School students at the end of October, and scores will be arriving shortly after Thanksgiving in the Guidance Office.

PSAT means Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and is the test traditionally taken by juniors and some sophomores in preparation for the SAT, a test taken senior year by students considering some type of further education. Because scores on these tests reflect verbal and mathematical reasoning abilities, they are subject to improvement as a student continues his/her educational experience both in and of of school. For this reason, a student's scores on the SAT is often higher than his/her PSAT score, although the SAT is somewhat more difficult.

The PSAT is also the NMSQT, the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. Juniors taking the PSAT this year will be considered for National Merit Scholarships, with publication of winners, finalists and those receiving Letters of Commendation taking place next fall.

Students are encouraged to visit the Guidance Office in an effort to discover how they did on the PSAT. A careful look at the Report of Student Answers can be helpful in several ways. By reviewing wrong answers, a student can find patterns of weakness in either a subject area or in ability to handle a certain type of question. By using the following year to strengthen these areas, a student has a better chance to improve SAT scores next year. SAT scores are used as one of the basic criteria in admission to college, so performing well is important. The Guidance staff invites both students and parents to inquire about PSAT scores and encourages follow-up review of the Report of Student Answers.

The Lloyd Center

The next weekly walk at the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies, 430 Potomska Road, South Dartmouth, will be Sunday, November 28, at 1:30 p.m. and will address the Past and Present Natural History of the Center.

Changes in the natural communities at the Center have often occurred as a result of the land-use patterns of its past human residents. The Causeway, a road built originally to cross an inlet, now provides a suitable habitat for several types of seaweed. In addition, the effect of non-human forces is also in evidence. Hurricane winds have felled trees in the wooded swamp, creating a new habitat at that area of the property.

Join us for an afternoon walk which will explore these and other human and non-human forces which have shaped the Cen-

Y.W.C.A.

Join the YWCA staff and members for a family fun-filled afternoon at the Annual YWCA Hanging of the Greens on Sunday, December 5, from 2 to 4 p.m. There will be singing, entertainment, refreshments and, of course - Santa!

Admission is an up-to-date YWCA membership card for one member of each family. Children must be accompanied by an adult.

DISPLACED HOMEMAKER PROGRAM

Services of the New Bedford YWCA Displaced Homemaker Program will be expanded with the contract awards totalling $350,000 to three organizations: Quinsigamond Community College in Worcester for the Central Region; the Women's Service Center in Pittsfield for the Western Region; and the Greater Boston YWCA for the Eastern Region. The New Bedford YWCA has been designated a satellite office for the Eastern Region, along with the Greater Boston YWCA Cass Branch and Oswalos House (Roxbury), Boston YWCA in Boston and the West Suburban Branch YWCA in Natick, Cambridge YWCA, and Lowell YW.

Each center will deliver job counseling and prevocational services to displaced homemakers and be responsible for the development of informational and referral networks to assure that referrals are made to meet the education skills training and job placement needs of their clients. Displaced Homemakers are defined as women who have lost their main source of income through death, disability, divorce or separation and find themselves on the job market. They often have inadequate skills, "rusty" skills or do not really know what skills they can offer to an employer.

The New Bedford Center called New Directions will service the southeastern Massachusetts area. Carole Farrell and Judy Soares are job-sharing the position of counselor/coordinator. Job sharing is a concept the New Bedford YWCA has long advocated. Appointments may be made by calling either women at the YWCA, 999-3255.

The opening of the New Bedford Center for Displaced Homemakers will be launched with a Wine and Cheese Open House at the YWCA, 66 Spring Street, New Bedford, on December 1 from 4 to 6 p.m.

HARD TO BELIEVE SURVIVORS HAVE GONE SOFT.

May be hard to believe. But they sure are easy to wear. That's because the leather in these new Survivors® is about as soft as a pup's belly.

But don't let that fool you. It may feel soft, but this is one tough boot. Built like all Herman Survivors are built. To last. Just like they've been built for over 100 years. No cutting corners. Which means they'll stay soft and comfortable that much longer.
